

An Evening Out

Keith J. Wilson is an associate professor of ancient scripture at Brigham Young University where he teaches Book of Mormon, New Testament, and Old Testament courses. He received a bachelor's and master's degree from BYU and a PhD from the University of Utah. His educational specialty is the historical ties between universities and founding churches. Of late, his research has focused on the dramatic changes in the RLDS Church (now Community of Christ). Wilson served a mission in Vienna, Austria and speaks fluent German.

Guest Speaker

Keith J. Wilson

“Does the Church Really Need Little Ole Me: A Study of The Three Witnesses”

Friday, May 16, 2014 at 7 p.m.

Rochester Stake Center

1400 Westfall Road

Rochester, NY 14618

Dessert will be served.

$3 individual/$5 couple; $3/$6 night of event

Purchase tickets online until May 14 at <http://alumni.byu.edu/cumorahwilson2014>

or at the door.

Sponsored by the BYU Alumni Cumorah Chapter

BYU

ALUMNI CHAPTERS